Weather and other conditions permitting, two runs are held on race day. There is usually a break between the first and second runs. The duration of any break depends on weather, course condition & resetting, course inspection requirements and on whether there were any excessive delays in the first run.

A disqualification (DQ) list for both runs is posted near the check-in area in the lodge as soon as possible after the last run is completed. Any protests must be submitted to the referee within 15 minutes of the DQ posting time.

Directly after the conclusion of the race, volunteer workers and officials should return any Metro articles or equipment checked out from the morning. Afterwards you can go out and make those post-race runs!
